Chan Leck

MBA, MCILT, MCIPS, MMIM, MIM-CPT

Chan Leck is the Managing Consultant of LECK Consultancy, a company which provides management training and consultancy to improve people and organizational effectiveness.

Chan Leck has more than 33 years working experience in a highly reputable multinational FMCG company where he retired as Operations Director and Board Member of the company. In his 14 years as Operations Director, his responsibilities encompassed manufacturing, engineering, materials and logistics management, safety, health & environmental practices, plant maintenance & security and affiliate export business. He was also responsible for the Human Resource Department from 1992 to 1995 where he led the company's team in negotiation with the employees' union for Collective Agreements

Through his leadership, vision and strategic focus on manufacturing excellence, he transformed the Malaysian plant to become the lowest-cost producer of baby toiletries in the Asia/Pacific region by successfully implementing world class manufacturing initiatives, such as Quality Improvement Process, Just-in-Time manufacturing and Supplier Quality Management. He also led the plant to achieve "Class A" status for MRPII processes and Safety, Health & Environmental practices by external accreditation. His low cost initiatives had not only improved the Malaysian company's competitiveness but also the affiliate companies that sourced their products from the Malaysian plant. Under the company's worldwide plant consolidation exercise, the Malaysian plant, as the lowest cost producer, was designated as the regional manufacturing site for baby toiletries in the Asia/Pacific region.

As a Management Board Member, Chan Leck participated in strategic and key business decision-making at board level for the management of the company and included leadership, policies, and direction in the execution of company's strategies to achieve the company's short and long-term goals.

Chan Leck brings with him a wealth of management experience which he passionately shares through the training he conducts. He is a trainer/facilitator in the area of Strategic Management, Leadership & Change Management, Management Skills Development, Performance Management, Supply Chain Management, Purchasing & Logistics Management, as well as other programmes customized to clients' needs. He has been a resource person with the Malaysian Institute Management since 1994 and is a continuous recipient of the annual MIM Training Excellence Award from 2007 to 2011.

Chan Leck holds a MBA degree in General Management from the University of Hull (UK), professional qualifications from the Chartered Institute of Logistics & Transport (UK) and the Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply (UK), membership in the Malaysian Institute of Management (MMIM) and is a MIM-Certified Professional Trainer (MIM-CPT).
